

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

TWELFTH YEAR. NO. 94.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1896.

TWO CENTS

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE MORTGAGEE SALE.

Stock is being rapidly sold, but still many bargains left

READ THESE PRICES.

Lace Curtains, 39c.
Cotton Batting, 5c.
Towels, 4c.
8c Muslin, 6c.
Table Linen, 21c.
Light Prints, 3c.
Ticking, 8c.
12¹c Chintz, 7c.
White Wool Flannel, 12¹c.
Wool Country Flannel, 18c.
White Goods, 7c.
Wool Cashmere, 12¹c.
Wool Plaids, 12¹c.
Dress Trimmings, 5c.
Corsets, 39c.
Ladies' Ties, 12¹c.
Underwear, Half Price.
Hosiery, Half Price.
Silk Waists, Half Price.
Fine Dress Ginghams, Half
Price
Mohair Skirts, Half Price.
Parasols, Half Price.
Furs, Half Price.
Art China, Half Price.
Silverware, Half Price.
Cloaks at Low Prices.
Embroidery and Laces at
Low Prices.
Kid Gloves at Low Prices.

C. C. BEYMER, Agent for Mortgagees.

THE BOSTON STORE. THE BOSTON STORE. THE BOSTON STORE.

Ladies' and Children's Wraps.

They are here in all their beauty. Infants' Wraps, Children's Wraps, Ladies' Wraps; Wraps all sizes and styles, Wraps to suit all sized pocketbooks. They have been carefully selected from eight of the largest and best manufacturers' lines of Cloaks in New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland. In buying a Wrap from us you can rely on getting the very latest style and the very best value possible for your money.

Ladies' Cloth Capes, $1.49 to $15.
Ladies' Plush Capes, $4.98 to $25.
Ladies' Cloth Jackets, $2.98 to $20.
Ladies' Plush Jackets, $18 to $25.
Children's Jackets, $1.75 to $10.

These prices only give you an idea of the variety we carry. To get a correct understanding of the value of the goods you must see the style, the make-up and fit of the garments. All we ask is an opportunity to show you the goods. No trouble in selling them. Already they are selling freely. Don't wait until the cream is picked away. Come now to

The Boston Store,
A. S. YOUNG, 138 and 140 Fifth Street.
East Liverpool, Ohio.

THE BOSTON STORE. THE BOSTON STORE. THE BOSTON STORE.

BRYAN'S BLUSTER

Reviewed by a Man He Tried
to Bulldoze.

WALKER AND THE CANDIDATE

The Pitiable Part Played by Our
Own Congressman.

HE WAS NOT SO VERY WELL

When He Entered the Sweatbox, but Was
a Sick Man Indeed When Tom Reed
Had Finished His Questions—That Way
and Means Hearing In Which We Are
All Interested.

A potter talked to potters at the Fifth street rink last Saturday evening. He did not clothe his thoughts in finely-moulded sentences, nor embellish them with beautifully-worded figures, but he did strike straight from the shoulder, and every time he made a telling hit his hearers cheered him to the echo.

It was the most enthusiastic meeting of the campaign. While the Haines band played a few excellent pieces on Fifth street, the potters began to crowd the rink, and before Mr. Fred Walker, an operative potter of Trenton, stepped on the stage the big room was well filled. The sombre hue of the galleries was changed by a liberal sprinkling of color, and many ladies, some of them employees of the potters, remained in their places until the final cheer marked the close of an excellent address. Seats had been provided for 50 vice presidents, and after their names had been called by W. V. Blake, Chairman D. F. Nellis presented Samuel Eardley, chairman of the meeting. Mr. Eardley made no set speech, and introduced Mr. Walker as "our fellow workman from Trenton who has something to say." When the applause had died out Mr. Walker said:

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, FELLOW CITIZENS OF OHIO—It affords me great pleasure to come to the city of which I have heard so much. I have been interested in the potters since my earliest childhood, and as a result have heard a great deal of East Liverpool. I have been treated royally since coming here, and if I can say anything which will convince one man not now in accord with my political views that he is wrong, I will be satisfied.

"The issues between the great political parties are at present more clearly defined than at any time since the war. On one side is sound money, protection and prosperity; and on the other is repudiation by a repudiator, free trade by a free trader, and anarchy by a man who associates with Altgeld, Waite and Tillman.

"Bryan acknowledges that he is the candidate of the Chicago convention. He believes in the coinage of the unlimited quantity of silver tendered the government, not at the commercial ratio existing in New York, London, Berlin, Paris and St. Petersburg, but at a ratio which makes 50¹/₂ cents worth of silver equal to 100 cents. He believes that our country with its 70,000,000 of people and circulating medium, of which $700,000,000 is silver, can pass a law that will fix the value of the silver of the world. Has it ever been done?

We have some wonderful inventions patented, but the value of money is not placed by a patent. Labor creates value. It is the first element of value. Yet Bryan proposes to value the labor of this country at 50 cents on the dollar. He can't increase the price of silver, and strange as it may seem if you have two coins, one inferior and the other better, the inferior will drive the other out of the market. The people hoard the more valuable for its premium, and as soon as we strive to make the value of silver so soon will we be wiped out from all commercial relations with the other countries of the world. Free silver is an experiment, so was the Wilson bill, and you know how that worked. [Applause.]

"The Democrats elected a president on the theory they could raise sufficient revenue, but failed. It took from us our own market, the greatest of the world. We eat or throw away more than any other country. The Wilson bill struck a blow at every industry. I had some experience with that bill, and hope to define this man Bryan's position.

"I believe the president of the United States should be a man of integrity, honesty, a model man, but if Bryan is such I don't want to hear of model men. When I went to Washington Sept. 19, 1893, it was against my wishes. I am a bench boss, and I did not want them to say I was not an operative. When your delegation, and the delegation from Trenton went to that meeting of the ways and means committee we found your congressman, Doctor Ikirk, ready to take part in the discussion. I don't want to charge him with anything wrong, nor do I know that he purposely arranged to take up time. He was kind if he did, but he did do it. He occupied one-third of the time, and it would have been much better for you snow before a July sun. How would Bryan coin his silver? The director of the mint says the mints of this country can coin only 40,000,000 silver dollars a year. He would have to build new mints, and that our congress would never allow. [Applause.] We grant he will give the people all the money he can coin. How long would it require to replace the gold driven out by free coinage? Just 15¹/₂ years. Enact a free silver measure, take out the gold, and our per capita circulation would sink from $24.02 to $14. That would mean 15 years of the hardest times we ever saw. I hope you will not countenance this by your vote, but that, if it can be done with honor, you will increase the circulation. [Applause.]

"Now let us look at the results of free coinage. The savings bank of this country have 5,000,000 depositors. They are not gold bugs, bankers, nor Wall street brokers, but are poor men because the rich do not put their money where it yields the least interest. Ninety-nine per cent of these depositors, workmen, have put their surplus earnings in banks, but these last three years there has been no surplus. [Laughter.] The deposits have decreased, because the people had no work, and were compelled to draw out their money that they might not starve. But even now they have $700,000,000 to their credit. Do you who have $5 or $100 in a savings bank want it split in twain under free coinage? Draw out the gold, your money can't be worth more than the government can sustain, and we have 50¹/₂ cent dollars and 'In God We Trust' for the balance.

"Then we have the building and loan associations. It is workingmen who need them. They save a little, borrow the remainder to pay for a home, and under free coinage thousands would be made homeless. It does not affect the rich, but does affect the man with a mortgage. If he has no money when it is due, out he goes. It is being done every day. If this can happen under the threat, what would be the result with that threat carried out?

"There is another phase of this question that affects the widow, the orphan and the veteran soldier. Pay pensions in 50 cent dollars, and how will these dependent people exist? It is a question that Bryan must solve before November. [Applause.]

"Why are thousands of men walking our streets looking for work? Was that brought about by the Republican party? To 1892 the workingman of this United States was on the top of the pedestal. Is it so today? You know whether you receive the same employment, or the same money. It is a vital question for you to answer. For 27 years Republican administrations decreased the national debt. I am proud to be a member of that party. [Applause.] Lately the burden of the people has been increased, and someone must bear it. If the Democrats borrow we must all help to pay. From March 4, 1892 to Aug. 1, 1896, they increased the debt $263,329,000, and the deficiency for August was $10,000,000. Our annual interest is increased $14,000,000. I believe a nation like a man should pay its way. [Applause.] There is something wrong. We had a law in 1890. It was fathered by that valiant man from Canton, our noble champion, [Applause.] the object of which is stated in the preamble. The bill was given no chance to prove itself. People thought it was a fallacy, and voted for a change, but I must compliment you that Ohio had more sense than my own state of New Jersey. [Applause.] They got one kind of change, but not the other kind, that which jingles in your pocket. [Applause.] It is more important to have change in your pocket than the Wilson bill on the statute books. Then that noble man, James G. Blaine, added a grand feature to the bill, a feature that equals protection—reciprocity. [Applause.]

"That's the pith of his argument. The man working in a manufactory is too well paid, and the farmer pays the difference. In spite of the figures showing crockery was cheaper under protection, he would not be convinced. Now, this orator who would tonight press down upon the brow of labor a crown of thorns asks your vote. Will you give it to him? [Never, never.]

"It is not the manufacturer, the gold bug or the banker who rules the nation. It is the workman. We are in the proportion of 10 to 1. Exert your power; put that man of Canton in the White House. [Applause.]

"I bring you greeting from New Jersey. If the census the best men of our state can take is right, we will carry it this year by 40,000. [Applause.] We will sweep it like a tidal wave, and if the signs do not fail we will sweep the country. Let us stand and demand work for our workmen, keep our trade here, employ our men first. Bryan believes in getting labor in the cheapest market, I believe ours is the best on earth and deserves the best pay. We work harder, and climatic conditions are against us. Take away the workingman's employment, and he soon becomes a pauper. If you will vote to have work all the time, and if you want the 12¹/₂ returned, vote for William McKinley. [Applause.] Let it not be said to the discredit of the workmen that they voted for another change, but that we voted to put back in power the party which reduced the public debt, and elevated the workman, and let it ever be our proud boast that workmen did it. I thank you."

and better for the doctor if he had not asked for the privilege of the floor. [Applause.] He hadn't finished what he had to say when Mr. Reed took hold of him, and applied the thumb screws. [Applause.] If I ever felt sorry for a man it was when I saw the doctor in this plight. [Applause and laughter.] He was painfully disturbed, and as Mr. Reed gave the screws a twist the doctor perspired. Another twist, and more perspiration, until the drops fell from his face, and blotted out some of the figures he had for reference. I was sorry. He said he came to represent the potters, and argued for protection, but he didn't go far enough. He simply favored the men whose support he wanted. When Mr. Reed asked if he believed in protection he said, 'Yes, as far as pottery is concerned.' 'You accepted your election on the Democratic platform, and in spite of that acceptance dare ask for protection?' asked Mr. Reed. He believed in the Wilson bill, but he didn't want the duty on pottery reduced. Think of it. Were there no glass houses or iron mills in his district? Was pottery all? The doctor told me he was not very well when he went to the hearing, and he certainly was a sick man when Mr. Reed got through with him. Mr. Reed, who is a bomb ever ready to explode [applause], said he was pleased the doctor was there, and if he could convert those Democratic members of the committee he would accomplish what Mr. Reed had been trying to do for many years. You know how the doctor voted on the Wilson bill. I am glad you thought it was better to have him a good doctor than a poor congressman.

"The manufacturers came next, and I felt sick when I saw how they were handled. If you don't believe those men can tangle you, just go to Washington when they make a new bill after McKinley is elected. [Applause.] I went on the stand and made a general statement, and showed protection had not increased the price of ware to the consumer, but had built up a big industry, compelled competition, and forced it down 40 per cent in 10 years. I answered several questions, and was then turned over to the pitiless, merciless man from Nebraska, he who rides through the country and dares to say he represents the people. 'Do you think you have the right to ask this government,' he said, 'to protect this industry when you can earn the wages you say you do?' I told him I believed I had that right because we were not overpaid. 'Possibly,' he said, 'but don't you think you are overpaid when your wages are compared with the wages of the farm hand in Nebraska?' Think of that, gentlemen. Think of him comparing the skilled mechanic to the unskilled farm laborer. That's the man who wants your support, your vote. Little did he then think he would ever appeal to the potters for help. Fancy him asking your vote, he who would base your wages on the wages of a farm hand, which he acknowledged amounted to $18 a month and board. Then I told him it would be better if he endeavored to raise the wages of the farm hand rather than tear down the wages of the potter. [Applause.] He agreed with me, but what do you think he said? 'I agree with you, but have you a plan?' I promptly told him no. It is not for me to make these plans when you are paid for it. [Applause.]

"That's the pith of his argument. The man working in a manufactory is too well paid, and the farmer pays the difference. In spite of the figures showing crockery was cheaper under protection, he would not be convinced. Now, this orator who would tonight press down upon the brow of labor a crown of thorns asks your vote. Will you give it to him? [Never, never.]

"It is not the manufacturer, the gold bug or the banker who rules the nation. It is the workman. We are in the proportion of 10 to 1. Exert your power; put that man of Canton in the White House. [Applause.]

"I bring you greeting from New Jersey. If the census the best men of our state can take is right, we will carry it this year by 40,000. [Applause.] We will sweep it like a tidal wave, and if the signs do not fail we will sweep the country. Let us stand and demand work for our workmen, keep our trade here, employ our men first. Bryan believes in getting labor in the cheapest market, I believe ours is the best on earth and deserves the best pay. We work harder, and climatic conditions are against us. Take away the workingman's employment, and he soon becomes a pauper. If you will vote to have work all the time, and if you want the 12¹/₂ returned, vote for William McKinley. [Applause.] Let it not be said to the discredit of the workmen that they voted for another change, but that we voted to put back in power the party which reduced the public debt, and elevated the workman, and let it ever be our proud boast that workmen did it. I thank you."

IN THE SAME GRAVE

Mrs. Simms and Her Son, Donald, Were Buried.

BOTH CLAIMED BY DIPHTHERIA

The Lady Died Yesterday and the Boy This Morning—Three Cases of the Disease Reported Since Saturday—Precautions Being Taken.

Two deaths from diphtheria and three cases reported since Saturday night made up the alarming record in Doctor Ogden's office today.

At a late hour Saturday Mrs. C. B. Simms died at her home on Lincoln avenue. Last week her child was seized by an attack of malignant diphtheria, and the mother nursed it. Later in the week she, too, contracted the dread disease, and it soon ended her existence. At 4 o'clock this morning her son, Donald, died. He had been suffering from diphtheria, and mother and son were laid to rest in the same grave this morning. Mrs. Simms bore his suffering with Christian fortitude, and her many friends are comforted with the belief she has passed to a better land.

There are a number of cases of diphtheria in the city, and the health authorities are taking every precaution to keep the dread disease from spreading. Nine cases have been reported since Aug. 26. Property owners are urged to clean cellars and closets. There are now six houses quarantined in the city. The cases reported Saturday are in the families of Frank Hulme, Fourth street; Hazel Hahn, Calcutta road; James Miller, in the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets.

GOOD MEETINGS.

Yesterday Was a Great Time For the Association.

W. A. Kling delivered an impressive address at the First M. E. church last night, in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association. He made the claim that there are 800,000 young men in the state of Ohio alone, and that but 50,000 of this number are in the habit of attending church or connected therewith. He gave, as an illustration of how the Young Men's Christian association is misunderstood, even by Christian people, the story of the farmer and his wife, living far in the rural districts, who permitted their one darling boy to go to a far distant city to carve out his way in this busy world. The young man succeeded in securing a situation and was sent to the Young Men's Christian association rooms, in order that he might be directed to a boarding place. He met a cordial reception and soon found quarters. Writing home, in letter after letter he made mention of the grand time he was having in the Young Men's Christian association until finally the Christian mother's heart was alarmed, and she bade the husband and father pack his grip, go to the city and see if her boy had not fallen into bad company. The visit was made; the son escorted the father down into the city and finally into the Young Men's Christian association rooms. First they went into the reading room, then into the library and then into a room where a number were engaged in playing checkers and chess, and the old father said: "What's this? Have you run me into a gambling den?" The son made no answer, but led his parent into a splendid gymnasium, where a number of athletes were going through the various exercises, and again the father said: "See here, my boy, is this a circus?" Still no response, the boy leading the way into a well equipped bathing department, and finally into a neat, cosy and attractive hall, where a young man was engaged in addressing a number of comrades, taking for his subject the love and mercy of the blessed Christ. After this came an earnest prayer by one of the young men; and then the leader called for remarks from any one who desired to speak, and the country lad rose from his father's side and, in an intensely earnest manner, told how God had spoken to his soul, and how, under the mercy of the Master, the Young Men's Christian association had proven to him a haven of rest. The old man's heart was on fire. He went home again, and as soon as he met his Christian wife he burst out with, "Don't say a word about that Young Men's Christian association mother; it's all right, thank God," and then he told her the story in detail.

Miss Alice Goodwin rendered, as a solo, "Sweet Spirit, Hear My Prayer," at the opening of the service, and rendered it in a manner which won warm words of approval from her hearers, as the glorious words rang out in splendid service of song, to the fitting accompaniment of the grand organ. Mr. Kling spoke in the warmest terms of the music, particularly of Miss Goodwin's singing, and said it was an inspiration in his talk.

Mr. Kling also addressed the First U. P. congregation in the morning. Secretary Pierce spoke at the First Presbyterian and the Second U. P. churches. The meeting at the Methodist Protestant church in the afternoon was attended by a large number of men, who listened to an excellent address from Mr. Kling.

BRIGHTON WON.

The Eclipse Boys Did Not Score a Point.

The Eclipse football boys played their first game of the season at New Brighton on Saturday afternoon, and lost by a score of 10-0. The team was handicapped by the absence of a center, Snediker having missed the train at Wellsville. It was necessary to substitute a new man, and Brighton soon found the weak point. Every time the home team went after the line a gain was made. The Eclipse boys showed the need of practice, and fumbled the ball when it was in their possession. Hard practice will be had every evening this week, and they expect to make a good showing against Bethany next Friday afternoon.

THE INQUISITOR'S WORK.

Causes Another Suit to Be Filed in Litigation.

LISBON, Sept. 28.—[Special]—Mrs. Hannah Wyllie, of East Liverpool, filed petition today asking an order restraining the treasurer from collecting $507.06 assessed against her by Auditor Harvey. She was out of the county when the assessor called in 1895, and she thinks the auditor has no ground for charging her with taxes of $18,000.

Circuit court ended its work by affirming the decision of common pleas in these cases: McGhee against Wessells company, Robert Calvin against Mt. Hope college, M. M. Conant against B. Allison. The case of Mrs. Zaley against Salineville will be decided at the next term.

ONLY ONE GREAT MAN.

In the Mind of the East End Youth.

THE EVENING NEWS REVIEW.

TWELFTH YEAR. NO. 94.

EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1896.

TWO CENTS

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF EAST LIVERPOOL.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE MORTGAGEE SALE.

Stock is being rapidly sold, but still many bargains left

LACE CURTAINS, 30c.
COTTON BATTING, 5c.
TOWELS, 4c.
8c MUSLIN, 6c.
TABLE LINEN, 21c.
LIGHT PRINTS, 3c.
TICKING, 8c,
12½c CHINTZ, 7c.
WHITE WOOL FLANNEL, 12½c.
WOOL COUNTRY FLANNEL, 18c.
WHITE GOODS, 7c.
WOOL CASHMERE, 12½c.
WOOL PLAIDS, 12½c.
DRESS TRIMMINGS, 5c.
CORSETS, 39c.
LADIES' TIES, 12½c.
UNDERWEAR, HALF PRICE.
HOSIERY, HALF PRICE.
SILK WAISTS, HALF PRICE.
FINE DRESS GINGHAM, HALF
PRICE.
MOHAIR SKIRTS, HALF PRICE.
PARASOLS, HALF PRICE.
FURS, HALF PRICE.
ART CHINA, HALF PRICE.
SILVERWARE, HALF PRICE.
CLOAKS AT LOW PRICES.
EMBROIDERY AND LACES AT
LOW PRICES.
KID GLOVES AT LOW PRICES.

C. C. BEYMER, Agent for Mortgagees.

THE BOSTON STORE. THE BOSTON STORE. THE BOSTON STORE.

Ladies' and Children's Wraps.

They are here in all their beauty. Infants' Wraps, Children's Wraps, Ladies' Wraps; Wraps all sizes and styles, Wraps to suit all sized pocketbooks. They have been carefully selected from eight of the largest and best manufacturers' lines of Cloaks in New York, Philadelphia and Cleveland. In buying a Wrap from us you can rely on getting the very latest style and the very best value possible for your money.

Ladies' Cloth Capes, $1.49 to $15.
Ladies' Plush Capes, $4.98 to $25.
Ladies' Cloth Jackets, $2.98 to $20.
Ladies' Plush Jackets, $18 to $25.
Children's Jackets, $1.75 to $10.

These prices only give you an idea of the variety we carry. To get a correct understanding of the value of the goods you must see the style, the make-up and fit of the garments. All we ask is an opportunity to show you the goods. No trouble in selling them. Already they are selling freely. Don't wait until the cream is picked away. Come now to

The Boston Store,
A. S. YOUNG, 138 and 140 Fifth Street.
East Liverpool, Ohio.

BRYAN'S BLUSTER

Reviewed by a Man He Tried
to Bulldoze.

WALKER AND THE CANDIDATE

The Pitiable Part Played by Our Own Congressman.

HE WAS NOT SO VERY WELL

When He Entered the Sweatbox, but Was
a Sick Man Indeed When Tom Reed
Had Finished His Questions—That Ways
and Means Hearing in Which We Are
All Interested.

A potter talked to potters at the Fifth street rink last Saturday evening. He did not clothe his thoughts in finely-moulded sentences, nor embellish them with beautifully-worded figures, but he did strike straight from the shoulder, and every time he made telling hit his hearers cheered him to the echo.

It was the most enthusiastic meeting of the campaign. While the Haines band played a few excellent pieces on Fifth street, the potters began to crowd the rink, and before Mr. Fred Walker, an operative potter of Trenton, stepped on the stage the big room was well filled. The sombre hue of the galleries was changed by a liberal sprinkling of color, and many ladies, some of them employees of the potters, remained in their places until the final cheer marked the close of an excellent address. Seats had been provided for 50 vice presidents, and after their names had been called by W. V. Blake, Chairman D. F. Nellis presented Samuel Eardley, chairman of the meeting. Mr. Eardley made no set speech, and introduced Mr. Walker as "our fellow workman from Trenton who has something to say." When the applause had died out Mr. Walker said:

"LADIES AND GENTLEMEN, FELLOW CITIZENS OF OHIO—It affords me great pleasure to come to the city of which I have heard so much. I have been interested in the potters since my earliest childhood, and as a result have heard a great deal of East Liverpool. I have been treated royally since coming here, and if I can say anything which will convince one man not now in accord with my political views that he is wrong, I will be satisfied.

"The issues between the great political parties are at present more clearly defined than at any time since the war. On one side is sound money, protection and prosperity; and on the other is repudiation by a repudiator, free trade by a free trader, and anarchy by a man who associates with Altgeld, Waite and Tillman.

"Bryan acknowledges that he is the candidate of the Chicago convention. He believes in the coining of the unlimited quantity of silver tendered the government, not at the commercial ratio existing in New York, London, Berlin, Paris and St. Petersburg, but at a ratio which makes 50% cents worth of silver equal to 100 cents. He believes that our country with its 70,000,000 of people and circulating medium, of which $700,000,000 is silver, can pass a law that will fix the value of the silver of the world. Has it ever been done? We have some wonderful inventions patented, but the value of money is not placed by a patent. Labor creates value. It is the first element of value. Yet Bryan proposes to value the labor of this country at 50 cents on the dollar. He can't increase the price of silver, and strange as it may seem if you have two coins, one inferior and the other better, the inferior will drive the other out of the market. The people hoard the more valuable for its premium, and as soon as we strive to make the value of silver so soon will we be wiped out from all commercial relations with the other countries of the world. Free silver is an experiment, so was the Wilson bill, and you know how that worked. [Applause.]

"The Democrats elected a president on the theory they could raise sufficient revenue, but failed. It took from us our own market, the greatest of the world. We eat or throw away more than any other country. The Wilson bill struck a blow at every industry. I had some experience with that bill, and hope to define this man Bryan's position.

"I believe the president of the United States should be a man of integrity, honesty, model man, but if Bryan is such I don't want to hear of model men. When I went to Washington Sept. 19, 1892, it was against my wishes. I am a bench boss, and I did not want them to say I was not an operative. When your delegation, and the delegation from Trenton went to that meeting of the ways and means committee we found your congressman, Doctor Kirk, ready to take part in the discussion. I don't want to charge him with anything wrong, nor do I know that he has done anything wrong. Let us see. We have $620,000,000 in gold, and $700,000,000 in silver. Pass a free coinage act, and gold will be driven out. It would vanish like snow before a July sun. How would Bryan coin his silver? The director of the mint says the mints of this country can coin only 40,000,000 silver dollars a year. He would have to build new mints, and that our congress would never allow. [Applause.] We grant he will give the people all the money he can coin. How long would it require to replace the gold driven out by free coinage? Just 15½ years. Enact a free silver measure, take out the gold, and our per capita circulation would sink from $24.02 to $14. That would mean 15 years of the hardest times we ever saw. I hope you will not countenance this by your vote, but that, if it can be done with honor, you will increase the circulation. [Applause.]

"Now let us look at the results of free coinage. The savings bank of this country have 5,000,000 depositors. They are not gold bugs, bankers, nor Wall street brokers, but are poor men because the rich do not put their money where it yields the least interest. Ninety-nine per cent of these depositors, workmen, have put their surplus earnings in banks, but these last three years there has been no surplus. [Laughter.] The deposits have decreased, because the people had no work, and were compelled to draw out their money that they might not starve. But even now they have $700,000,000 to their credit. Do you who have $5 or $100 in a savings bank want it split in twain under free coinage? Draw out the gold, your money can't be worth more than the government can sustain, and we have 50% cent dollars and "In God We Trust" for the balance.

"Then we have the building and loan associations. It is workingmen who need them. They save a little, borrow the remainder to pay for a home, and under free coinage thousands would be made homeless. It does not affect the rich, but does affect the man with a mortgage. If he has no money when it is due, out he goes. It is being done every day. If this can happen under the threat, what would be the result with that threat carried out?

"There is another phase of this question that affects the widow, the orphan and the veteran soldier. Pay pensions in 50 cent dollars, and how will these dependent people exist? It is a question that Bryan must solve before November. [Applause.]

"Why are thousands of men walking our streets looking for work? Was that brought about by the Republican party?

To 1892 the workingman of this United States was on the top of the pedestal. Is it so today? You know whether you receive the same employment, or the same money. It is a vital question for you to answer. For 27 years Republican administrations decreased the national debt. I am proud to be a member of that party. [Applause.] Latey the burden of the people has been increased, and someone must bear it. If the Democrats borrow we must all help to pay. Then we have the building and loan associations. It is workingmen who need them. They save a little, borrow the remainder to pay for a home, and under free coinage thousands would be made homeless. It does not affect the rich, but does affect the man with a mortgage. If he has no money when it is due, out he goes. It is being done every day. If this can happen under the threat, what would be the result with that threat carried out?

"There is another phase of this question that affects the widow, the orphan and the veteran soldier. Pay pensions in 50 cent dollars, and how will these dependent people exist? It is a question that Bryan must solve before November. [Applause.]

"Why are thousands of men walking our streets looking for work? Was that brought about by the Republican party?

To 1892 the workingman of this United States was on the top of the pedestal. Is it so today? You know whether you receive the same employment, or the same money. It is a vital question for you to answer. For 27 years Republican administrations decreased the national debt. I am proud to be a member of that party. [Applause.] Latey the burden of the people has been increased, and someone must bear it. If the Democrats borrow we must all help to pay. Then we have the building and loan associations. It is workingmen who need them. They save a little, borrow the remainder to pay for a home, and under free coinage thousands would be made homeless. It does not affect the rich, but does affect the man with a mortgage. If he has no money when it is due, out he goes. It is being done every day. If this can happen under the threat, what would be the result with that threat carried out?

"There is another phase of this question that affects the widow, the orphan and the veteran soldier. Pay pensions in 50 cent dollars, and how will these dependent people exist? It is a question that Bryan must solve before November. [Applause.]

"The issues between the great political parties are at present more clearly defined than at any time since the war. On one side is sound money, protection and prosperity; and on the other is repudiation by a repudiator, free trade by a free trader, and anarchy by a man who associates with Altgeld, Waite and Tillman.

and better for the doctor if he had not asked for the privilege of the floor. [Applause.] He hadn't finished what he had to say when Mr. Reed took hold of him, and applied the thumbscrews. [Applause.] If I ever felt sorry for a man it was when I saw the doctor in this plight. [Applause and laughter.] He was painfully disturbed, and as Mr. Reed gave the screws a twist the doctor perspired.

Another twist, and more perspiration, until the drops fell from his face, and blotted out some of the figures he had for reference. I was sorry. He said he came to represent the potters, and argued for protection, but he didn't go far enough. He simply favored the men whose support he wanted. When Mr. Reed asked if he believed in protection he said, "Yes, as far as pottery is concerned." You accepted your election on the Democratic platform, and in spite of that acceptance dare ask for protection?" asked Mr. Reed. He believed in the Wilson bill, but he didn't want the duty on pottery reduced. Think of it. Were there no glass houses or iron mills in his district? Was pottery all? The doctor told me he was not very well when he went to the hearing, and he certainly was a sick man when Mr. Reed got through with him. Mr. Reed, who is a bomb ever ready to explode [applause], said he was pleased the doctor was there, and if he could convert those Democratic members of the committee he would accomplish what Mr. Reed had been trying to do for many years. You know how the doctor voted on the Wilson bill. I am glad you thought it was better to have him a good doctor than a poor congressman.

"The manufacturers came next, and I felt sick when I saw how they were handled. If you don't believe those men can tangle you, just go to Washington when they make a new bill after McKinley is elected. [Applause.] I went on the stand and made a general statement, and showed protection had not increased the price of wares to the consumer, but had built up a big industry, compelled competition, and forced it down 40 per cent in 10 years. I answered several questions, and was then turned over to the pitiless, merciless man from Nebraska, he who rides through the country and dares to say he represents the people. Do you think you have the right to ask this government, he said, "to protect this industry when you can earn the wages you say you do?" I told him I believed I had that right because we were not overpaid. "Possibly," he said, "but don't you think you are overpaid when your wages are compared with the wages of the farm hand in Nebraska?" Think of that, gentlemen. Think of him comparing the skilled mechanic to the unskilled farm laborer. That's the man who wants your support, your vote. Little did he then think he would ever appeal to the potters for help. Fancy him asking your vote, he who would base your wages on the wages of a farm hand, which he acknowledged amounted to $18 a month and board. Then I told him it would be better if he endeavored to raise the wages of the farm hand rather than tear down the wages of the potter. [Applause.] He agreed with me, but what do you think he said? "I agree with you, but have you a plan? I promptly told him no. It is not for me to make these plans when you are paid for it. [Applause.]

"That's the pith of his argument. The man working in a manufactory is too well paid, and the farmer pays the difference. In spite of the figures showing crockery was cheaper under protection, he would not be convinced. Now, this orator who would tonight press down upon the brow of labor a crown of thorns asks your vote. Will you give it to him? [Never, never.]

"It is not the manufacturer, the gold bug or the banker who rules the nation. It is the workman. We are in the proportion of 10 to 1. Exert your power; put that man of Canton in the White House. [Applause.]

"I bring you greeting from New Jersey. If the census the best men of our state can take is right, we will carry it this year by 40,000. [Applause.] We will sweep it like a tidal wave, and if the signs do not fail we will sweep the country. Let us stand and demand work for our workmen, keep our trade here, employ our men first. Bryan believes in getting labor in the cheapest market, I believe ours is the best on earth and deserves the best pay. We work harder, and climatic conditions are against us. Take away the workingman's employment, and he soon becomes a pauper. If you will vote to have work all the time, and if you want the 12½ returned, vote for William McKinley. [Applause.] Let it not be said to the discredit of the workmen that they voted for another change, but that we voted to put back in power the party which reduced the public debt, and elevated the workman, and let it ever be our proud boast that workmen did it. I thank God."

"Where are the leading statesmen who have made laws? Are they on the side of silver? No. They do not believe in this country attempting what it cannot sustain. Bryan claims that he will overcome this business depression by providing so much money through the unlimited coinage of silver that each person will have more than he has at present. Let us see. We have $620,000,000 in gold, and $700,000,000 in silver. Pass a free coinage act, and gold will be driven out. It would vanish like

IN THE SAME GRAVE

Mrs. Simms and Her Son, Donald, Were Buried.

BOTH CLAIMED BY DIPHTHERIA

The Lady Died Yesterday and the Boy This Morning—Three Cases of the Disease Reported Since Saturday—Precautions Being Taken.

Two deaths from diphtheria and three cases reported since Saturday night made up the alarming record in Doctor Ogden's office today.

At a late hour Saturday Mrs. C. B. Simms died at her home on Lincoln Avenue. Last week her child was seized by an attack of malignant diphtheria, and the mother nursed it. Later in the week she, too, contracted the dread disease, and it soon ended her existence. At 4 o'clock this morning her son, Donald, died. He had been suffering from diphtheria, and mother and son were laid to rest in the same grave this morning. Mrs. Simms bore his suffering with Christian fortitude, and her many friends are comforted with the belief she has passed to a better land.

There are a number of cases of diphtheria in the city, and the health authorities are taking every precaution to keep the dread disease from spreading. Nine cases have been reported since Aug. 26. Property owners are urged to clean cellars and closets. There are now six houses quarantined in the city. The cases reported Saturday are in the families of Frank Hulme, Fourth street; Hazel Hahn, Calcutta road; James Miller, in the alley between Fifth and Sixth streets.

GOOD MEETINGS.

Yesterday Was a Great Time For the Association.

W. A. Kling delivered an impressive address at the First M. E. church last night, in the interest of the Young Men's Christian association. He made the claim that there are 800,000 young men in the state of Ohio alone, and that but 50,000 of this number are in the habit of attending church or connected therewith. He gave, as an illustration of how the Young Men's Christian association is misunderstood, even by Christian people, the story of the farmer and his wife, living far in the rural districts, who permitted their one darling boy to go to a far distant city to carve out his way in this busy world. The young man succeeded in securing a situation and was sent to the Young Men's Christian association rooms, in order that he might be directed to a boarding place. He met a cordial reception and soon found quarters. Writing home, in letter after letter he made mention of the grand time he was having in the Young Men's Christian association until finally the Christian mother's heart was alarmed, and she bade the husband and father pack his grip, go to the city and see if her boy had not fallen into bad company. The visit was made; the son escorted the father down into the city and finally into the Young Men's Christian association rooms. First they went into the reading room, then into the library and then into a room where a number were engaged in playing checkers and chess, and the old father said: "What's this? Have you run me into a gambling den?" The son made no answer, but led his parent into a splendid gymnasium, where a number of athletes were going through the various exercises, and again the father said: "See here, my boy, is this a circus?" Still no response, the boy leading the way into a well equipped bathing department, and finally into a neat, cosy and attractive hall, where a young man was engaged in addressing a number of comrades, taking for his subject the love and mercy of the blessed Christ. After this came an earnest prayer by one of the young men; and then the leader called for remarks from any one who desired to speak, and the country lad rose from his father's side and, in an intensely earnest manner, told how God had spoken to his soul, and how, under the mercy of the Master, the Young Men's Christian association had proved to him a haven of rest. The old man's heart was on fire. He went home again, and as soon as he met his Christian wife he burst out with, "Don't say a word about that Young Men's Christian association, mother; it's all right, thank God," and then he told her the story in detail.

Miss Alice Goodwin rendered, as a solo, "Sweet Spirit, Hear My Prayer," at the opening of the service, and rendered it in a manner which won warm words of approval from her hearers, as the glorious words rang out in splendid service of song, to the fitting accompaniment of the grand organ. Mr. Kling spoke in the warmest terms of the music, particularly of Miss Goodwin's singing, and said it was an inspiration in his talk.

Mr. Kling also addressed the First U. P. congregation in the morning. Secretary Pierce spoke at the First Presbyterian and the Second U. P. churches. The meeting at the Methodist Protestant church in the afternoon was attended by a large number of men, who listened to an excellent address from Mr. Kling.

BRIGHTON WON.

The Eclipse Boys Did Not Score a Point.

The Eclipse football boys played their first game of the season at New Brighton on Saturday afternoon, and lost by a score of 10-0. The team was handicapped by the absence of a center, Snidker having missed the train at Wellsville. It was necessary to substitute a new man, and Brighton soon found the weak point. Every time the home team went after the line a gain was made. The Eclipse boys showed the need of practice, and fumbled the ball when it was in their possession. Hard practice will be had every evening this week, and they expect to make a good showing against Bethany next Friday afternoon.

THE INQUISITOR'S WORK

Causes Another Suit to Be Filed in Lisbon.

LISBON, Sept. 28.—[Special]—Mrs. Hannah Wyllie, of East Liverpool, filed a petition today asking an order restraining the treasurer from collecting $507.06 assessed against her by Auditor Harvey. She was out of the county when the assessor called in 1895, and she thinks the auditor has no ground for charging her with taxes on $18,000.

Circuit court ended its work by affirming the decision of common pleas in these cases: McGhie against Wessells company, Robert Calvin against Mt. Hope college, M. M. Conant against B. Allison. The case of Mrs. Zaley against Salineville will be decided at the next term.

The News Review.

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY.

PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY.

HARRY PALMER, Manager and Proprietor.
Entered as second class matter at the East Liverpool, O., post office.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

(Postage free in United States and Canada.)
One Year in Advance. $5.00
Three Months. $2.50
By the Week. 10

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., MONDAY, SEPT. 28.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President, WILLIAM MCKINLEY, Of Ohio.
For Vice President, GARRET A. HOBART, Of New Jersey.
For Electors at Large, ISAAC F. MACK, ALBERT C. DOUGLASS.
For Secretary of State, CHARLES KINNEY.
For Judge of Supreme Court, MARSHALL J. WILLIAMS.
For Member of Board of Public Works, FRANK HUFFMAN.
For Congress, ROBERT W. TAYLER.
For Judge of the Circuit Court, J. B. BURROWS.
For Judge of Common Pleas Court, P. M. SMITH.
For Probate Judge, J. C. BOONE.
For Clerk of Courts, JOHN S. MNUTT.
For Recorder, ED. M. CROSSER.
For Commissioner, CHRIS. BOWMAN.
For Infirmary Director, L. C. HOOPES.
For Coroner, JOHN L. STRAUGHN.

MAINE gave a tremendous Republican majority a few weeks ago, and yet the people of Bath turned out by the thousands to see Candidate Bryan. Curiosity accounts for the silverite's crowds.

THE Pittsburg Posts insults every railroad man in Wellsville when it says the higher officials of the Cleveland and Pittsburg compelled them to become members of the sound money club.

ALLEN O. MYERS made a speech at Salem, and then told the newspaper men of Steubenville that silver would carry Columbian county. That is in line with all Bryanite prognostications.

MCKINLEY has a long lead and honest money will win in November, but the Republican leaders should make the defeat of Bryan so complete that business interests will never again be compelled to suffer because of a continuance of the silver craze. Crush out the serpent so that its end will be certain.

THE political sentiment of the city was never more clearly shown than during the few minutes consumed by Mr. Walker in relating his experiences before the ways and means committee. His hearers knew he told them nothing but the truth, and paid their respects to Mr. Bryan in no uncertain manner.

BISMARCK'S PLAN.

General Sherwood wanders up and down the district reading at every opportunity the letter which Count Von Bismarck is said to have sent to Governor Culberson, and pointing to it as an argument favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver. If the general does this in ignorance of the motive behind that letter he is to be pitied, but if he knowingly does it he should be condemned. Germany is among our best customers. Last year we sold to its people products of this country to the value of over $90,000,000. Bismarck and every other German knows this amount was paid in money equal to 100 cents for the dollar. Under the plan proposed by General Sherwood and his friends Germany would not be compelled to send so much money for the same products. It could go into the markets, buy silver at its bullion value, and settle our accounts in debased currency, or send only one half the amount now necessary. Instead of receiving $90,000,000 the German would pay but $45,000,000. The men who produce the exported articles would suffer. Their products would be decreased in value, not by any set rule of supply and demand, but by a law made by our own people and permitting the foreigner to rob us of just due. Is it a matter of great wonder or astonishment that Bismarck would rejoice to see America on a silver basis?

GREEN GOODS

are going to be immensely popular this fall. Have frequent patches of green cropping out, but a modest shade that cautiously peeps out here and there amidst other colors that seem to coax it on, but it's green—unobtrusive, but unmistakably green. We have the new brown, gray and red mixed goods. These suits are made in the newest styles.

Our MEN'S SUITS we are selling at $8, $9, $10, $11, $12, $13 and $14 are winners.

CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Vestee,
Eton,
Junior,
Reefer,
Ferris,
Norfolk,
Lawrence Juvenile Reefer.

We have so many styles that we can surely please the boy. You should call and see

JOSEPH BROS.

MAY TACKLE TURKEY.

English and Italian Troops Ready to Move.

FRANCE WARNS THE SULTAN

That the Reforms Introduced Through the Powers In Armenia Must Be Enforced Throughout the Turkish Empire—Fresh Massacres of Armenians.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Daily News correspondent at Rome is assured that negotiations are pending between England and Italy with a view to the latter government holding in readiness a large body of troops to sail at a moment's notice for the Levant.

The Paris correspondent of The Chronicle learns that M. Cambon, the French ambassador at Constantinople, had a long interview with the sultan yesterday, in the course of which he declared that the western powers had resolved to insist that the reforms which had already been granted in the Armenian provinces should be extended to the whole Turkish empire.

The Chronicle's correspondent adds: "This is the first diplomatic move of France, and is regarded as a final warning."

Fresh slaughters of Armenians in Anatolia are reported. A Times dispatch says that a massacre has occurred at Kaisarea and at Ghemerek. The burning of Kharput is also reported.

The Daily Mail has a dispatch, which confirms the foregoing news, and says that 120 Armenians were slain at Ghemerek.

Much uneasiness prevails in Constantinople, according to The Times correspondent, Mohammedans who can do so are sending their families away from the city.

The speech delivered at Liverpool by Mr. Gladstone has caused great excitement in the Yildiz Kiosk, the residence of the sultan. Papers containing the speech have been prohibited from entering Turkey.

According to other advices from Constantinople, great consternation prevails at court on account of the recent discovery of a subterranean passage from the palace of Dolma Bagdische, leading to a part of the Yildiz Kiosk, in which the crown jewels are preserved.

WILLIAMS THE NOMINEE.

Three Conventions Named the Massachusetts Silverite for Governor.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—George Fred Williams' silver forces carried everything before them at the Democratic state convention. Over 500 of his men held Music hall against all intruders, nominated him for governor and endorsed the Chicago platform and ticket. His men outside the hall, unable to get in, met elsewhere and ratified this.

The state committee held a separate convention in Faneuil hall, but nominated Williams also. The gold men, outnumbered, all withdrew, and nominated F. O. Prince. The Populist state convention, which was also held here, endorsed the nomination of George Fred Williams for governor.

Many of the delegates locked in the hall spent the night singing popular airs until they were tired, and then curled up and slept.

A small bottle of
TONSILINE

lasts longer than most any case of

SORE THROAT.

The same truth holds good with the worst case of SORE MOUTH.

Thousands have tried and endorse Tonsiline as a grand family remedy for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Hoarseness and Quinsy.

Every home needs Tonsiline always at hand, it saves dollars and lives.

Tonsiline costs 25 and 50 Cents, at all druggists.

THE TONSILINE CO. - CANTON, O.

CLAIMS TO BE AN EARL

Remarkable Claims of a Poor Photographer in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—John Lee Spohn, a photographer here, claims to be the fifth Earl of Ludlow, Viscount Preston, and Baron of Ludlow of Ardsalla, in the peerage of Ireland, and Baron Ludlow in that of the United Kingdom. His brother has left here for Shropshire, Wales, to claim the rights and titles of the elder brother. John Lee Spohn is poor, but his brother, W. H. Spohn, who lives at Hamilton, Canada, is wealthy, and has corresponded with English attorneys until he is satisfied he can establish his elder brother's titles by lineal descent. The estate embraces Shropshire county, Wales, and is valued at $20,000,000.

The earlship has been extinct since 1842. W. H. Spohn has secured the old manuscript of the family tree. He has numerous relics of the last recognized earl, who died in 1840. The title and estates then descended to the earl's uncle, John G. Ludlow, the earl dying without issue. His uncle was dead, and the uncle's son, Peter R. Ludlow, lived at Albany, N. Y., and from there went to Hamilton, Ont., where he died two months after reaching the place. His only child, a daughter, being poor, made no claim. Her eldest son is John Lee Spohn, who is now making the claim. John Lee Spohn married Miss Lester. Their children are Mrs. I. E. Ryan, Mrs. Maud Vanhorn and Miss Ada Moeschel all of this city.

A Big Irish Massmeeting.

TIPPERARY, Ireland, Sept. 28.—Thousands of persons attended the meeting Sunday in favor of amnesty to the Irish political prisoners. For the first time since the split in the Irish party, John Dillon and John Redmond appeared on the same platform. John Daly, the recently released dynamiter, also spoke.

A Steamer Nearly Foundered.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 28.—The steamer G. R. Booth, Captain Nesbitt, from Philadelphia, Sept. 10, for Cork, has arrived here. She nearly foundered in the recent gale, her decks being swept by tons of water, which flooded the cabins, nearly quenching the fires.

Not Likely to Fight.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The Corbett-Sharkey fight is virtually off, so far as this city is concerned. A telegram has been received from Corbett, stating that unless either the National or Eureka club puts up $10,000 by tonight, the fight is off. This probably ends the fight talk.

A Railroad President Indicted.

BUFFALO, Sept. 28.—Samuel C. DeCoursey, president of the Western New York and Philadelphia Railroad company, has been indicted by the federal grand jury for criminal violation of the interstate commerce law. Bail has been fixed at $5,000.

Iron Mine Closed Down.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Sept. 28.—The Lake Angelus Iron mine, which in former years paid $500,000 dividends annually, has closed down, throwing 600 men out of work. The company had sunk its surplus in improvements.

Railroad President Indicted.

BALLATER, Sept. 28.—The czar and czarina, Queen Victoria, the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family attended services at Crathie church Sunday and drove out in the afternoon.

Fire in Massachusetts.

MERRIMAC, Mass., Sept. 28.—The Little and postoffice blocks have been destroyed by fire. The fire probably caught from a smoldering cigar stump. Total loss of $25,000, of which $12,000 is on the buildings.

Royal Attended Church.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 28.—Li Hung Chang almost home.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 28.—Li Hung Chang has arrived here on board the steamship Empress of China from Vancouver. There was no formal reception accorded him, and he immediately re-embarked for Tien-Tsin.

Babe Killed by Rats.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—Three large rats attacked the two-month-old boy baby of Isaac Asher, gnawing its face, head and neck to such an extent that it died in a short time.

A New Canal Opened.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The ceremony of opening the Iron Gate canal to improve the navigation of the Danube has occurred here. Emperor Francis Joseph participated.

No Protectorate Over Korea.

TOKIO, Sept. 28.—The newspapers here deny the assertion published in London that Russia and Japan have agreed upon a joint protectorate in Korea.

Murdered by a Little Boy.

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 28.—Thomas Kidd, aged 14, the son of W. K. Kidd of Cleveland, has been murdered at Dalton, near here, by Carl McIlhenny, aged 7.

His Whiskers.

Counselor—Did you observe anything particular about the prisoner?

Witness—Yes, his whiskers.

Counselor—What did you observe with reference to his whiskers?

Witness—That he had none.—London Fun.

The 2 cent bronze piece is composed of 95 per cent copper and 5 per cent of tin and zinc.

THE NEWS REVIEW JOB ROOM HIGH ART PRINTING.

YOU HAVE NO DOUBT HEARD OF THE SUPERIORITY OF

OUR PRINTING HAVE YOU EVER TRIED IT?

Original Ideas

By High Salaried Typographical Artists.

GIVE US YOUR ORDER.

PRESS WORK.

Finest machinery in the city, presided over by a pressman of many years' experience.

The only office in the city that can bring half tone engravings up to perfection.

This is the

SEAL

that appears on every Genuine loaf of

EST. 1815

MARVIN'S QUAKER BREAD.

DON'T TAKE IMITATIONS.

Sent by Express Daily from Pittsburgh Hot from the Oven.

DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS

Ask for DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS and take no other.

DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO. - Cleveland, Ohio

For sale at Will Reed's Opera House Pharmacy, Sixth street, East Liverpool, Ohio.

EVERY WOMAN

Sometimes needs a reliable, monthly, regulating medicine. Only harmles the purest drugs should be used. If you want the best, get

Dr. Peal's Pennyroyal Pills

They are prompt, safe and certain in result. The genuine (Dr. Peal's) never fails.

Send for circular. Price $1.00 per box, 6 boxes for $5.00.

Dr. Peal's Chemical Co. - Cleveland, Ohio

For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist, Cor. Sixth and West Market, East Liverpool, Ohio.

...THE NEWS REVIEW FOR ALL THE NEWS

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

Six Hundred Pairs of LADIES' DRESS SHOES received this week of the celebrated Philadelphia, Rochester (N. Y.) and Cincinnati Makes.

They are Beauties.

Some Very New and Pretty Patterns.

Will be Pleased to Show You the Goods.

J. R. Warner & Co. DIAMOND.

The News Review.

LEADING DAILY OF COLUMBIANA COUNTY.

PUBLISHED DAILY EXCEPT SUNDAY BY THE NEWS REVIEW COMPANY.

HARRY PALMER, Manager and Proprietor.
Entered as second class matter at the East Liverpool post office.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:
Postage free in United States and Canada.
One Year in Advance..... $5.00
Three Months..... 1.25
By the Week..... 10

EAST LIVERPOOL O. MONDAY, SEPT. 28.

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For President,
WILLIAM MCKINLEY,
Of Ohio.

For Vice President,
GARRET A. HOBART,
Of New Jersey.

For Electors at Large,
ISAAC F. MACK,
ALBERT C. DOUGLASS.

For Secretary of State,
CHARLES KINNEY.

For Judge of Supreme Court,
MARSHALL J. WILLIAMS.

For Member of Board of Public Works,
FRANK HUFFMAN.

For Congress,
ROBERT W. TAYLER.

For Judge of the Circuit Court,
J. B. BURROWS.

For Judge of Common Pleas Court,
P. M. SMITH.

For Probate Judge,
J. C. BOONE.

For Clerk of Courts,
JOHN S. MINUTE.

For Recorder,
ED. M. CROSSER.

For Commissioner,
CHRIS. BOWMAN.

For Infernary Director,
L. C. HOOPES.

For Coroner,
JOHN L. STRAUGHN.

MAINE gave a tremendous Republican majority a few weeks ago, and yet the people of Bath turned out by the thousands to see Candidates Bryan. Curiosity accounts for the silverite's crowds.

THE Pittsburg Posts insults every railroad man in Wellsville when it says the higher officials of the Cleveland and Pittsburg compelled them to become members of the sound money club.

ALLEN O. MYERS made a speech at Salem, and then told the newspaper men of Steubenville that silver would carry Columbian county. That is in line with all Bryanite prognostications.

MCKINLEY has a long lead and honest money will win in November, but the Republican leaders should make the defeat of Bryan so complete that business interests will never again be compelled to suffer because of a continuance of the silver craze. Crush out the serpent so that its end will be certain.

THE political sentiment of the city was never more clearly shown than during the few minutes consumed by Mr. Walker in relating his experiences before the ways and means committee. His hearers knew he told them nothing but the truth, and paid their respects to Mr. Bryan in no uncertain manner.

BISMARCK'S PLAN.

General Sherwood wanders up and down the district reading at every opportunity the letter which Count Von Bismarck is said to have sent to Governor Culberson, and pointing to it as an argument favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver. If the general does this in ignorance of the motive behind that letter he is to be pitied, but if he knowingly does it he should be condemned. Germany is among our best customers. Last year we sold to its people products of this country to the value of over $90,000,000. Bismarck and every other German knows this amount was paid in money equal to 100 cents for the dollar. Under the plan proposed by General Sherwood and his friends Germany would not be compelled to send so much money for the same products. It could go into the markets, buy silver at its bullion value, and settle our accounts in debased currency, or send only one half the amount now necessary. Instead of receiving $90,000,000 the German would pay but $45,000,000. The men who produce the exported articles would suffer. Their products would be decreased in value, not by any set rule of supply and demand, but by a law made by our own people and permitting the foreigner to rob us of our just due. It is a matter of great wonder and astonishment that Bismarck would rejoice to see America on a silver basis?

GREEN GOODS

are going to be immensely popular this fall. Have frequent patches of green cropping out, but a modest shade that cautiously peeps out here and there amidst other colors that seem to coax it on, but it's green—unobtrusive, but unmistakably green. We have the new brown, gray and red mixed goods. These suits are made in the newest styles.

OUR MEN'S SUITS we are selling at $8, $9, $10, $11, $12, $13 and $14 are winners.

CHILDREN'S SUITS.

Vestee,
Eton,
Junior,
Reefer,
Ferris,
Norfolk,
Lawrence Juvenile Reefer.

We have so many styles that we can surely please the boy. You should call and see

JOSEPH BROS.

MAY TACKLE TURKEY.

English and Italian Troops Ready to Move.

FRANCE WARNS THE SULTAN

That the Reforms Introduced Through the Powers In Armenia Must Be Enforced Throughout the Turkish Empire—Fresh Massacres of Armenians.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Daily News correspondent at Rome is assured that negotiations are pending between England and Italy with a view to the latter government holding in readiness a large body of troops to sail at a moment's notice for the Levant.

The Paris correspondent of The Chronicle learns that M. Cambon, the French ambassador at Constantinople, had a long interview with the sultan yesterday, in the course of which he declared that the western powers had resolved to insist that the reforms which had already been granted in the Armenian provinces should be extended to the whole Turkish empire.

The Chronicle's correspondent adds: "This is the first diplomatic move of France, and is regarded as a final warning."

Fresh slaughters of Armenians in Anatolia are reported. A Times dispatch says that a massacre has occurred at Kaisarea and at Ghemerek. The burning of Kharput is also reported.

The Daily Mail has a dispatch, which confirms the foregoing news, and says that 120 Armenians were slain at Ghemerek.

Much uneasiness prevails in Constantinople, according to The Times correspondent, Mohammedans who can do so are sending their families away from the city.

The speech delivered at Liverpool by Mr. Gladstone has caused great excitement in the Yildiz Kiosk, the residence of the sultan. Papers containing the speech have been sent to reinforce the garrisons in Thibet.

According to other advices from Constantinople, great consternation prevails at court on account of the recent discovery of a subterranean passage from the palace of Dolma Baghsche, leading to a part of the Yildiz Kiosk, in which the crown jewels are preserved.

WILLIAMS THE NOMINEE.

Three Conventions Named the Massachusetts Silverite For Governor.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—George Fred Williams' silver forces carried everything before them at the Democratic state convention. Over 500 of his men held Music hall against all intruders, nominated him for governor and endorsed the Chicago platform and ticket. His men outside the hall, unable to get in, met elsewhere and ratified this.

The state committee held a separate convention in Fanueil hall, but nominated Williams also. The gold men, outnumbered, all withdrew, and nominated F. O. Prince. The Populist state convention, which was also held here, endorsed the nomination of George Fred Williams for governor.

Many of the delegates locked in the hall spent the night singing popular airs until they were tired, and then curled

A small bottle of
TONSILINE

lasts longer than most any case of

SORE THROAT.

The same truth holds good with the worst case of SORE MOUTH.

Thousands have tried and endorse Tonsiline as a grand family remedy for Sore Throat, Sore Mouth, Hoarseness and Quinsy.

Every home needs Tonsiline always at hand, it saves dollars and lives.

Tonsiline costs 25 and 50 Cents, at all druggists.

THE TONSILINE CO., CANTON, O.

CLAIMS TO BE AN EARL

Remarkable Claims of a Poor Photographer In Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 28.—John Lee Spohn, a photographer here, claims to be the fifth Earl of Ludlow, Viscount Preston, and Baron of Ludlow of Ardsalla, in the peerage of Ireland, and Baron Ludlow in that of the United Kingdom. His brother has left here for Shropshire, Wales, to claim the rights and titles of the elder brother. John Lee Spohn is poor, but his brother, W. H. Spohn, who lives at Hamilton, Canada, is wealthy, and has corresponded with English attorneys until he is satisfied he can establish his elder brother's titles by lineal descent. The estate embraces Shropshire county, Wales, and is valued at $20,000,000.

The earship has been extinct since 1842. W. H. Spohn has secured the old manuscript of the family tree. He has numerous relics of the last recognized earl, who died in 1840. The title and estates then descended to the earl's uncle, John G. Ludlow, the earl dying without issue. His uncle was dead, and the uncle's son, Peter R. Ludlow, lived at Albany, N. Y., and from there went to Hamilton, Ont., where he died two months after reaching the place. His only child, a daughter, being poor, made no claim. Her eldest son is John Lee Spohn, who is now making the claim. John Lee Spohn married Miss Lester. Their children are Mrs. I. E. Ryan, Mrs. Maud Vanhort and Miss Ada Moeschel all of this city.

A BIG IRISH MASSMEETING.

TIPPERARY, Ireland, Sept. 28.—Thousands of persons attended the meeting Sunday in favor of amnesty to the Irish political prisoners. For the first time since the split in the Irish party, John Dillon and John Redmond appeared on the same platform. John Daly, the recently released dynamiter, also spoke.

A STEAMER NEARLY FOUNDERED.

QUEENSTOWN, Sept. 28.—The steamer G. R. Booth, Captain Nesbit, from Philadelphia, Sept. 10, for Cork, has arrived here. She nearly foundered in the recent gale, her decks being swept by tons of water, which flooded the cabins, nearly quenching the fires.

NOT LIKELY TO FIGHT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The Corbett-Sharkey fight is virtually off, so far as this city is concerned. A telegram has been received from Corbett, stating that unless either the National or Eureka club puts up $10,000 by tonight, the fight is off. This probably ends the fight talk.

A RAILROAD PRESIDENT INDICTED.

BUFFALO, Sept. 28.—Samuel C. DeCoursey, president of the Western New York and Philadelphia Railroad company, has been indicted by the federal grand jury for criminal violation of the interstate commerce law. Bail has been fixed at $5,000.

IRON MINE CLOSED DOWN.

ISHPEMING, Mich., Sept. 28.—The Lake Angelus iron mine, which in former years paid $500,000 dividends annually, has closed down, throwing 600 men out of work. The company had sunk its surplus in improvements.

ROYALTY ATTENDED CHURCH.

BALLATER, Sept. 28.—The czar and czarina, Queen Victoria, the Prince and Princess of Wales and other members of the royal family attended service at Crathie church Sunday and drove out in the afternoon.

Fire in Massachusetts.

MERRIMAC, Mass., Sept. 28.—The Little and postoffice blocks have been destroyed by fire. The fire probably caught from a smoldering cigar stump. Total loss of $25,000, of which $12,000 is on the buildings.

LI HUNG CHANG ALMOST HOME.

YOKOHAMA, Sept. 28.—Li Hung Chang has arrived here on board the steamship Empress of China from Vancouver. There was no formal reception accorded him, and he immediately re-embarked for Tien-Tsin.

BABE KILLED BY RATS.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 28.—Three large rats attacked the two-month-old boy baby of Isaac Asher, gnawing its face, head and neck to such an extent that it died in a short time.

A NEW CASUAL OPENED.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The ceremony of opening the Iron Gate canal to improve the navigation of the Danube has occurred here. Emperor Francis Joseph participated.

NO PROTECTORATE OVER KOREA.

TOKIO, Sept. 28.—The newspapers here deny the assertion published in London that Russia and Japan have agreed upon a joint protectorate in Korea.

MURDERED BY A LITTLE BOY.

WOOSTER, O., Sept. 28.—Thomas Kidd, aged 14, the son of W. K. Kidd of Cleveland, has been murdered at Dalton, near here, by Carl McIlhenny, aged 7.

DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Ask for DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS and take no other. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO. - Cleveland, Ohio.

For sale at Will Reid's Opera House Pharmacy, Sixth street, East Liverpool, Ohio.

EVERY WOMAN

Sometimes needs a reliable, monthly, regulating medicine. Only harness the purest drugs should be used. If you want the best, get

Dr. Peal's Pennyroyal Pills

They are prompt, safe and certain in result. The genuine (Dr. Peal's) never disappoints. Sent anywhere, $1.00. Address PEAL MEDICINE CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist, Cor. Sixth and West Market, East Liverpool, Ohio.

THE NEWS REVIEW

JOB ROOM HIGH ART PRINTING.

YOU HAVE NO DOUBT HEARD OF THE SUPERIORITY OF

OUR PRINTING HAVE YOU EVER TRIED IT?

Original Ideas

By High Salaried Typographical Artists.

PRESS WORK.

Finest machinery in the city, presided over by a pressman of many years' experience.

The only office in the city that can bring half tone engravings up to perfection.

DON'T TAKE IMITATIONS. Sent by Express Daily from Pittsburgh Hot from the Oven.

DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS.

Ask for DR. MOTT'S PENNYROYAL PILLS and take no other. DR. MOTT'S CHEMICAL CO. - Cleveland, Ohio.

For sale at Will Reid's Opera House Pharmacy, Sixth street, East Liverpool, Ohio.

EVERY WOMAN

Sometimes needs a reliable, monthly, regulating medicine. Only harness the purest drugs should be used. If you want the best, get

Dr. Peal's Pennyroyal Pills

They are prompt, safe and certain in result. The genuine (Dr. Peal's) never disappoints. Sent anywhere, $1.00. Address PEAL MEDICINE CO., Cleveland, Ohio.

For sale by Alvin H. Bulger, Druggist, Cor. Sixth and West Market, East Liverpool, Ohio.

...THE NEWS REVIEW FOR ALL THE NEWS...

LADIES, TAKE NOTICE!

Six Hundred Pairs of LADIES' DRESS SHOES received this week of the celebrated Philadelphia, Rochester (N. Y.) and Cincinnati Makes.

They are Beauties. Some Very New and Pretty Patterns.

Will be pleased to show you the goods.

J. R. Warner & Co. DIAMOND.

Hours of Work

In Minutes of Time.

Dollars of Return

For Cents of Outlay.

That's what it means when you buy GASS' SHOES. The sleekest line of Ladies' and Gents' Needle Toe Shoes. Prices $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00 up. Will guarantee to save you from 25c to $1.00 per pair, or money refunded. Call soon.

All Shoes Shined Free for One Year.

W. H. GASS., 220 Diamond.

ON WHEELS TO CANTON

Several Hundred Bicyclists Going This Week.

WILL SEE M'KINLEY SATURDAY.

They Expect to Reach Canton That Day and Give a Parade—Will Hold Meetings Along the Way—This to Be a Big Week—Many Visitors Scheduled.

PARKHURST AGAINST SILVER.

He Preaches a Strong Sermon From His Pulpit.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Rev. Dr. Charles H. Parkhurst signalized his return from Europe to the pulpit of Madison Square Presbyterian church by preaching a sermon on the political situation Sunday. The church was filled, a number of silver men who disapproved of the doctor's views, being in the congregation. Some of these made unfriendly comments on leaving the church after the sermon.

When the doctor was told of these comments he remarked: "There is more in this thing than the silver question, and some Sunday, in the near future, I am going to speak my mind about the treatment of labor by capital. I will not make words either."

One of the visitors to the church was Treasurer William P. St. John of the Democratic national committee. He did not wait to hear all the doctor had to say.

"Mr. St. John is one of our deacons," said Dr. Parkhurst, after service.

The preacher led up to what he had to say about the campaign by an argument in which he tried to show that it was impossible to make anything without material, and impossible to build a structure without a good foundation. Among other things, he said:

"We are building forward into the future without knowing what we are

REV. DR. PARKHURST.

Saturday night closed an eventful week, and this morning opened up another. The appointments for the week are about double the number arranged for the last week. Major McKinley seems to be enjoying his usual good health and stands the strain remarkably well. Engagements have already been made with more than a score of delegations for the week. Dates have been fixed as late as Oct. 21, and there are but one or two open dates between now and that time. The week's engagements are as follows:

Today—Farmers and citizens of Lisbon and Columbiana county, O., delegates to the Afro-American Methodist Episcopal conference, now in session in Cleveland.

Tomorrow—Locomotive engineers from Chicago and vicinity, old soldiers from Sandusky, Baltimore and Ohio railroad men, farmers and business men from Northern Indiana and Missouri, along the line of the Santa Fe railroad; ladies' McKinley club of Cincinnati and Farmers of Geauga county.

Wednesday—Citizens of Bellefonte, Pa., and visiting citizens of Northwestern Ohio in the vicinity of Delphos and Van Wert.

Thursday—McKinley and Hobart club of Ravenna and Portage county, O.; Clarke county McKinley brigade from Springfield, O.

Friday—Italian club with band and military company of Chicago; farmers from the Panhandle of West Virginia, starting from Wheeling.

Saturday, McKinley and Hobart club of Venango county, Pa., starting from Franklin; Commercial Travelers' Sound Money club from Mansfield and vicinity; wheelmen from all over the United States; Bohemian-American citizens of Cleveland; miners, farmers, mechanics, and business men from Sunday Creek valley, O., starting from Gloucester; The News McKinley and Hobart club from Harrisburg, including mechanics, laborers, business men, and professional men, and Swedish-American club of Rockford, Ills.

BRYAN IN RHODE ISLAND.
He and Sewall Made Speeches at Providence Today.

PROVIDENCE, Sept. 28.—William J. Bryan and Arthur Sewall spoke here today to a large crowd. They arrived at Lynn, Mass., this morning, where Mr. Bryan spoke, having left Bath, Me., at midnight. They also spent an hour at Boston.

BATH, Me., Sept. 28.—William Jennings Bryan gained a needed rest Sunday. He took advantage of the quiet building upon, or knowing whether we are building upon anything in particular that contains in itself the indispensable elements of permanence. Material commodities in the shape of stocks and bonds, products of the soil and manufactures, have the same intrinsic value in the United States as they had six months ago. But the idea is in the air that all of this is presently to be dumped upon foundations too fictitious to sustain themselves, and still less to sustain the enormous weight of our national economies that it is proposed to place upon them.

He also expressed his great pleasure with all of the arrangements made for his comfort and convenience and that of his suite while traveling through the United States. In conclusion the minister was directed to convey the personal thanks of Li Hung Chang to General Ringer, Colonel Bliss and the other officers of the army for the efficient manner in which they had performed their duties and contributed to the pleasure of his sojourn in this country.

BULLETS FLY IN LEADVILLE.

The State Troops and Rioters Have Several Skirmishes.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 28.—An attack has been made on the Carbonate hill reserve of the Leadville Water company, and shots were exchanged between militia and rioters. A lively fusilage occurred at the Bonn mine, and continued for ten minutes. The sounds resembled a number of shot-guns, seemingly from one place, answered by rifle shots from different points nearby.

Lieutenant Verdeckberg has telephoned from the Bonn mine that four shots were fired at a private, who returned the fire, and called for his corporal of the guard. When the corporal ran out two shots were fired at him, and they were returned, after which a squad started in pursuit of the assailants.

ENGLAND FEARS AN INTRIGUE.

Alarmed About the Egyptian Khedive's European Tour.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Times' Cairo correspondent believes that there is some truth in a native report that the khedive is now making a tour of Europe incognito, and that he has taken with him a scheme for Egyptian independence, drafted by prominent native officials.

This anti-British intrigue," The Times' correspondent continues, "seems the more likely since the khedive, while professing that the journey is non-political, has had an interview with M. Hanotaux, the French minister of foreign affairs."

THACHER'S DECLINATION.

What the New York Democrats Will Likely Do Now.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—John Boyd Thacher has declined the Democratic nomination for governor of New York. Mr. Thacher in his letter said:

It is impossible for me, with the views I hold, to make a contest on the coinage issue. I believe in the good old Democratic doctrine of the joint free and equal use of silver. This doctrine is as far removed from the single use of gold, which enables speculators to juggle with its value, as it is from that other principle which seeks to establish an impossible of a typical New England Sunday to brace himself for the tedious journey back to Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Bryan spent Saturday night at the cozy cottage of his colleague, Mr. Sewall, on the banks of the picturesque, winding Kennebec. Awakening Sunday morning, refreshed from a good sleep, the candidate attended service, at the Center Congregational church, where Rev. A. Frederick Dunnells officiated. The church was crowded with the Bath public, there not only to witness, but to witness the distinguished guest.

The afternoon was occupied by a drive to Mr. Sewall's country place at Smallpoint, 15 miles away. The presidential candidate and his running mate sat behind a spanking team of horses belonging to Mr. Sewall, and Mr. Bryan had an opportunity to enjoy the beauty of the Maine scenery.

HOME OF ARTHUR SEWALL, BATH, ME.
of a typical New England Sunday to brace himself for the tedious journey back to Lynn, Mass.

Mr. Bryan spent Saturday night at the cozy cottage of his colleague, Mr. Sewall, on the banks of the picturesque, winding Kennebec. Awakening Sunday morning, refreshed from a good sleep, the candidate attended service, at the Center Congregational church, where Rev. A. Frederick Dunnells officiated. The church was crowded with the Bath public, there not only to witness, but to witness the distinguished guest.

The afternoon was occupied by a drive to Mr. Sewall's country place at Smallpoint, 15 miles away. The presidential candidate and his running mate sat behind a spanking team of horses belonging to Mr. Sewall, and Mr. Bryan had an opportunity to enjoy the beauty of the Maine scenery.

A PAYMASTER KILLED.

Bad Man From the West First Robbed Him.

LYNCING MAY FOLLOW CAPTURE.

A Posse Scouring the Country About Charleston, W. Va., Near Which Place the Robbery Occurred—The Dead Man Made a Game Fight.

CHARLESTON, Sept. 28.—A daring holdup has occurred on the Short Line railway between Sewall and Cliff Top, eight miles from this city. Joe Thompson, who came from the west about a year ago, learned that W. L. Wilson, bookkeeper and paymaster of the Longdale Iron company at Cliff Top was going up the road to pay off the men. Wilson had $2,800 with him and rode on the engine.

When the train reached a lonely spot in the mountains, Thompson, who had boarded the train, held up all those in the engine at the point of two revolvers. He suddenly grabbed the money from Wilson and jumped from the engine. Wilson shot at Thompson twice, and missed him. Thompson returned the fire, shooting Wilson fatally. Thompson made good his escape and Wilson is dying. A posse is in pursuit and a lynching is probable.

INCENDIARIES AVENGE BRYAN.

Factory That Displayed His Picture With Red Flag Burned.

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 28.—A small fire has destroyed Burns' Underwear factory here. Loss, $50,000.

Dell S. Morgan, ex-chairman of the Democratic city committee, sent the following telegram to Bath to William J. Bryan:

"Thank God, justice has received her just dues. Burns' Underwear factory, which displayed the red flag in your honor Friday afternoon, is in flames."

An investigation made by the state fire marshal, convinces him that the fire was of an incendiary origin, an evidence of kerosene having been sprinkled around the room is very manifest.

The Egyptian Expedition.

DONGOLA, Sept. 21.—The Second brigade of the Egyptian expedition is now proceeding south and up the Nile to garrison Merow, El-Dabbah and El Khandak. Merow is between 175 and 200 miles up the river from Dongola, and is nearly one-half the distance to Berber by the river. El-Dabbah and El-Khandak are situated at almost equal intervals on the river between Merow and Dongola.

Negro Killed by Citizens.

SPARTA, Ga., Sept. 28.—Harris Boone, colored, has been shot to death by a party of citizens. Harris had shot Town Marshal Bowen. The people were already enraged by the assassination of Abram Silver a few hours before by a negro. Parties are scouring the country for the assassin of Silver. If captured he will be lynched.

A Failure in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 28.—The announcement of the failure of the big wholesale drygoods firm of Wolfe & Brother created a sensation with the general public and the street in front of the establishment has been thronged with people. Additional attachments were run, which brings the aggregate up to about $200,000.

Lives Lost In a Gale.

PARIS, Sept. 28.—As a result of the gales on the French coast the steamer Magdalene founded near Bayonne, and the crew were drowned. The Breton fishermen have suffered severely as a result of the gales. Four yachts were driven from their moorings at Morget and have disappeared.

An American Released.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The state department has received official information from Consul General Lee at Havana that Samuel T. Tolon, an American, who was taken into custody by the Spanish authorities in Cuba Sept. 4 had been released.

Will Take the Political Stump.

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., Sept. 28.—Rev. H. L. Buzzell preached his farewell sermon at the Unitarian church at Fair Haven, Sunday. He has left the pulpit to stamp the New England states for Bryan and Sewall.

Accused of Embezzlement.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 28.—John B. Lynch, a traveling salesman and collector in the employ of the Wrought Iron Range company, occupies a cell in the central police station. He is charged with embezzling $10,000 or more.

Altdorf For United States Senate.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Chairman of the Democratic state central committee, says that should Governor Altdorf fail of re-election, he would be the candidate of the silver Democrats for United States senator.

The State Troops and Rioters Have Several Skirmishes.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 28.—An attack has been made on the Carbonate hill reserve of the Leadville Water company, and shots were exchanged between militia and rioters. A lively fusilage occurred at the Bonn mine, and continued for ten minutes. The sounds resembled a number of shot-guns, seemingly from one place, answered by rifle shots from different points nearby.

Lieutenant Verdeckberg has telephoned from the Bonn mine that four shots were fired at a private, who returned the fire, and called for his corporal of the guard. When the corporal ran out two shots were fired at him, and they were returned, after which a squad started in pursuit of the assailants.

ENGLAND FEARS AN INTRIGUE.

Alarmed About the Egyptian Khedive's European Tour.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The Times' Cairo correspondent believes that there is some truth in a native report that the khedive is now making a tour of Europe incognito, and that he has taken with him a scheme for Egyptian independence, drafted by prominent native officials.

This anti-British intrigue," The Times' correspondent continues, "seems the more likely since the khedive, while professing that the journey is non-political, has had an interview with M. Hanotaux, the French minister of foreign affairs."

THACHER'S DECLINATION.

What the New York Democrats Will Likely Do Now.

ALBANY, Sept. 28.—John Boyd Thacher has declined the Democratic nomination for governor of New York. Mr. Thacher in his letter said:

It is impossible for me, with the views I hold, to make a contest on the coinage issue. I believe in the good old Democratic doctrine of the joint free and equal use of silver. This doctrine is as far removed from the single use of gold, which enables speculators to juggle with its value, as it is from that other principle which seeks to establish an impossible

Brotherhood of Carpenters.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 28.—The Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners has decided by an overwhelming majority that party politics must not be discussed in the local unions. It was provided that any union man who goes to work while a strike or lockout is pending shall be subject to a fine of $25. The vote necessary to order a strike was raised from a majority of the union to two-thirds. The next convention will be held in New York.

May End Leadville Strike.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 28.—The Leadville miners' union has named a committee of five to consider the advisability of declaring the strike off.

Seven Persons Drowned.

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A ferryboat while crossing the river Tyne, near Shields, has sunk and seven persons were drowned.

LOCAL BREVIETIES.

Will A. Rhodes is home from a trip through the east.

Finch made his usual home run Saturday at New Cumberland.

The Federal Labor union will hold their regular meeting this evening.

Operations have been suspended on Avondale owing to the bad weather.

Walter Allen suffered a severe cut on the hand from a razor on Saturday.

The Rechabites gave a very pleasant social in their hall Saturday evening.

A number of people viewed the new bridge yesterday in spite of the wet weather.

George West arrived home Saturday evening from an eastern trip in the interests of the Vodrey pottery.

The Rovers association football team will open their season at Niles on Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Miss Josie Burford, Misses Maud Steele and Alexander Steele will leave in the morning to enter Adrian college.

The Wheeling baseball team passed through the city this morning bound for Youngstown where they will play this afternoon.

Homer Myler, fireman at the new end of the Knowles plant, will expound Republican doctrine to the farmers of Jefferson county next week.

There were fights and rumors of fights on Sixth street at a late hour Saturday evening, but in every instance the crowds dispersed before the police arrived.

Four Heating Stoves at a bargain. They are in the way and in order to dispose of them will be sold at your own figure. Some are as good as new. We have also on hand a 3-horse-power

A Reminder.

This is to remind you that if you want Footwear of any kind you can buy it

Nicest,
Best and Cheapest

at BENDHEIM'S,

Correct
Fitting Shoes
at Right Prices.

16 TO 1

that both gold and silver men will buy their Clothing, Hats, Caps, Furnishings, Trunks and Valises at our store this season.

WE'RE BOUND TO WIN.

It's a sure thing. Can't help it. Just look at the style, look at the quality, and then look at the prices. The odds are all in our favor. We've got the

CLOTHING, HATS, CAPS and GENTS' FURNISH- ING GOODS

that the people want. We've got 'em right; right in style, right in quality and right in price.

You'll come very near holding in your hand one-half the money that you expected to spend if you buy your Clothing Hats and Furnishings from

GEO. C. MURPHY,

Bargain One Price
Clothier, Hatter, Furnisher.

Have you seen our Imperial Hat? It's a beauty.

There is No Place Like Home. How True. Neither is there any Place like Bulger's Drug Store for you to Patronize.

There you get the best of everything—from a thorough knowledge of the business, with 19 years experience. A college course, State examination, etc., to a personal supervision of all business. We can give you better and safer prescription service than you can find in town, and we can guarantee you satisfactory prices. Try it

ON BULGER'S

BABY FIXINGS.

Baby does need a lot of things to make its little life comfortable doesn't it?

Pure Powder,
Pure Soap,
Soft Sponges.
Soft Brushes,
Delicate Perfume;

Maybe.....

Nipples and
Bottles, and
Prepared Food,

If it's that kind of a baby. Whatever it's needs, you can get it from

CLARENCE G. ANDERSON,
DRUGGIST,
N. E. Cor. 6th and W. Market.

NOTICE TO GAS CONSUMERS.

All domestic consumers connected with the Ohio Valley Gas company's lines are hereby notified that after Oct. 1, 1896, gas will be supplied only through meters. Meters will be furnished at the consumers' expense upon application at the office of this company. The price per thousand cubic feet by meter will be twenty-five cents, subject to a discount of twenty per cent, provided bills are paid on or before the 10th of each month for preceding month's supply.

THE OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.

SLEPT WITH A CORPSE

Mr. and Mrs. Whiting Found Their Baby Dead.

PASSED AWAY DURING THE NIGHT

The Father Thought It Was Sleeping at Four O'Clock Yesterday Morning—An Autopsy Held This Afternoon—Inquest Tomorrow.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Whiting was found dead in bed yesterday morning at the home of its parents on Second street.

The child was but four months old, and has for several days been suffering from an affliction of the throat. He was not very ill, and the parents did not think his condition serious. It was thought best on Saturday night to have him sleep with them, and when Whiting awoke about 4 o'clock the child seemed to be slumbering peacefully. Later when the couple arose they were surprised the little one did not awaken, and an examination speedily showed them it was dead. Squire Manley decided to hold an inquest, and Doctor Clark and Doctor Hobbs held an autopsy this afternoon. The father expressed the belief that his son had been suffering from a dangerous form of croup, and had been seized with an attack early in the morning, and had died without an effort. The physicians did not file their report until late this afternoon, and would give out nothing for publication until after their decision was in the hands of the squire. Squire Manley said no inquest would be held if the report was satisfactory.

LATER—The report was filed soon after 4 o'clock, but Squire Manley said he would make nothing public until tomorrow.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Miss Florence Cartwright is visiting friends in Pittsburgh.

—Jacob Stein left this morning on a business trip to Baltimore.

—Councilman Ashbaugh went east this morning for the West End pottery.

—David McClellan, of New Castle, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Sloane, Fifth street.

—Miss Belle Azdell leaves tomorrow for Denver, where her mother is at present.

—Charles Armstrong, of Braddock, was visiting friends in the city over Sunday.

—W. H. Deidrick and family arrived home Saturday evening after a visit in the east.

—James Moore, of Akron, was in the city today attending the funeral of his sister, Mrs. L. C. Simms.

—F. T. Seearight, of the Allegheny Evening Record, was yesterday the guest of his parents in East End.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson, of Beaver Falls, Pa., are the guests of J. W. Albright, McKinnon's addition.

—Miss Laura Welch, of Steubenville, spent Sunday with her sister, Miss Welch, who is acting temporarily as librarian.

—Mrs. Lucy McKinnon and John McKinnon arrived home last evening, after a visit of four months with relatives in Long Bottom.

PITTSBURG EXCURSIONS.

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Lines For the Exposition.

Excursion tickets to Pittsburg will be sold via Pennsylvania lines Thursdays, Sept. 17 and 24, and October 1, 8, 15 and 22 account the exposition. The round trip rate from East Liverpool will be $1.55, which includes admission to the exposition. Excursion tickets will be good going on regular trains on date of sale and good returning two days. For tickets and time of trains apply to Adam Hill, ticket agent, East Liverpool, O. *

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., New York.

CAKE AN OLD INSTITUTION.

The Ancients Made and Ate It, but It Was a Simple Affair.

The ancients made cake, but it was not the rich, highly seasoned and flavored confection we indulge in nowadays. They had plain cakes made with flour and water, some of them without a suspicion of sweet or flavor. Some of them were not unlike our plainest crackers and were often eaten as we eat bread.

Wedding cake was an institution among them, as with us, but the cake was a plain one and was broken above the head of the bride as she went to her new home. This was a special feature of Roman marriages 2,000 years ago.

The breaking of the cake was part of a solemn ceremony. All of the cakes of ancient history are plain and simple.

It is only as we come down to more modern times that we hear of spices and fruits and all of the rich and luxurious ingredients in which present day cake-makers delight. In Queen Elizabeth's time spice cakes and buns were eaten at weddings. From these the fashion and fancy grew for all sorts of elaborate and deliciously unwholesome combinations until there seems to be a perpetual struggle for something new and more unusual to stir into the cake of the period.

Very many persons think cake is unwholesome. Some sorts of cake may be, but why a simple cake with a little good fruit in it should be specially injurious is a puzzling question. Cake made with fresh, sweet butter and fresh eggs can scarcely be a tax on the digestive powers, and no other shortening save good butter should ever be put into cake.—Philadelphia Press.

AN HOUR'S WALK.

You Would Hardly Think That That Meant Traveling 85,253 Miles.

Have you ever thought of the distance you travel while you are out on an hour's stroll? Possibly you walk three miles within the hour, but that does not by any means represent the distance you travel. The earth turns on its axis every 24 hours. For the sake of round figures we will call the earth's circumference 24,000 miles, and so you must have traveled during the hour's stroll 1,000 miles in the axial turn of the earth.

But this is not all. The earth makes a journey around the sun every year, and a long but rapid trip it is. The distance of our planet from the sun we will put at 92,000,000 miles. This is the radius of the earth's orbit—half the diameter of the circle, as we call it.

There's six days down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vaults are opened for it. We've another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady.

"Oh, yes; I think I may say every dawg is buried in a box of some sort and a fair proportion of 'em in proper coffins, brass mounted and everything. You'd hardly believe how some of the owners will cry at the funeral. It's mostly ladies that bury their pets here, of course.

As a rule, they've got more sentiment about this sort of thing than men have. Nearly all of 'em come regularly for the first few weeks with wreaths and bunches of flowers, but the majority of 'em begin to drop that after a month or two. Though there's a dawg buried yonder—see that flat stone with a railing round it?—the old lady has come on the anniversary of his death every year since I've been here, and that's nigh eight years now, and she seems as sorry about him still as if he'd been a Christian like me and you."

Another remarkable feature of this cemetery is that, besides the names and ages of the dogs interred and in many instances flattering records of their virtues, some of the tombstones are inscribed with poetical quotations and, indeed, as it may sound, even with Biblical texts.—London Tit-Bits.

THE DOG CEMETERY.

A SEXTON RELATED SOME CURIOUS FACTS CONCERNING IT.

Costly Monuments Erected Over Dead Pups by Their Sentimental Owners—Poetical Epitaphs and Biblical Texts Setting Forth the Virtues of the Departed.

Toilet clubs are not the only luxury that dogs enjoy in common with mankind; they are pampered also with cemeteries.

On the northwestern outskirts of London, in a fine old country mansion, surrounded by extensive grounds, lives and labors one of the wealthiest and most fashionable of veterinary surgeons, who numbers among his customers various members of the royal family, many persons of title and distinguished leaders of society—in fact, his prices are so handsome that ordinary middle class mortals cannot afford to avail themselves of his services.

He is a dog specialist, leaving all the remainder of the animal kingdom in the hands of other practitioners, and the fact that he has made a very comfortable fortune justifies him in his exclusiveness. And not only will he tend the canine species when they are ailing, but he is prepared to bury them when they die and to bury them, moreover, with the most gratifying pageantry and decorum.

The cemetery reserved for this purpose is in a corner of a field on his estate; but, being inclosed by a wall and planted about with trees, nothing of the interior is visible either from his own windows or from any point of the surrounding country, so that few, if any, of the neighbors are aware that such a place of sepulture exists in the midst of them.

"Some of the dawgs buried here," said an attendant, showing the favored inquirer round, "died while we had 'em under treatment in hospital, as you may say, but many of 'em died in their own homes and was brought much as six and seven miles to their funeral."

The headstones and monuments in this singular cemetery are as large and often as costly as any placed above the average human body, and the epitaphs on them are not infrequently quite as eloquentic.

"This one here," observed the attendant, pointing out a particularly neat and well kept grave with a red marble obelisk at the head of it, "is where two pup dawgs were buried. They belonged to an old lady who brought 'em over with her from Paris. She had 'em for several years, and we were always being called in to doctor 'em, though they were always suffering from nothing but overfeeding. At last one day they were both taken ill together—they'd eaten something as wasn't good for 'em—and they died. She was dreadful cut up about it—she couldn't have been more so if they'd been children—and she had 'em buried here in two as neat little airtight coffins as ever you see. She comes every now and then on a visit, and she pays our gardener 25 shillings a year extra specially to water the flowers she planted on the grave and keep it all tidy."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vaults are opened for it. We've another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady.

"Oh, yes; I think I may say every dawg is buried in a box of some sort and a fair proportion of 'em in proper coffins, brass mounted and everything. You'd hardly believe how some of the owners will cry at the funeral. It's mostly ladies that bury their pets here, of course.

As a rule, they've got more sentiment about this sort of thing than men have. Nearly all of 'em come regularly for the first few weeks with wreaths and bunches of flowers, but the majority of 'em begin to drop that after a month or two. Though there's a dawg buried yonder—see that flat stone with a railing round it?—the old lady has come on the anniversary of his death every year since I've been here, and that's nigh eight years now, and she seems as sorry about him still as if he'd been a Christian like me and you."

Another remarkable feature of this cemetery is that, besides the names and ages of the dogs interred and in many instances flattering records of their virtues, some of the tombstones are inscribed with poetical quotations and, indeed, as it may sound, even with Biblical texts.—London Tit-Bits.

Street Railways In Philadelphia.

By the street railway statement it appears that there are within the city limits 316½ miles of streets now occupied by passenger railways and 116¾ miles on which street car privileges have been granted, but not yet used.

The latter item is somewhat surprising information for people who have been under the impression that the city already had about all the street car lines it had use for. There are, however, some long lines, especially in the suburbs, for which councils granted privileges many months ago, some of them under the representation that the projectors were in great haste to build, but on which not a stroke of work has yet been done.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Attention, Soldiers.

Members of the Veterans' Union Patriotic League, old soldiers and sons of old soldiers, are requested to meet at Republican headquarters, Wednesday evening, at 7:30, and then go to Wellsville. McKinley club cordially invited to attend. By order of the

* PRESIDENT.

In the Hands of the Judge.

The question as to the constitutionality of the vehicle ordinance is now in the hands of Judge Smith, and a decision may be expected about the first of the October term of court.

Dock Howard is Home.

Dock Howard arrived home last night after a season of ball playing with the Cuban Giants. He was very successful, and may play with the same team next year.

Got the Full Amount.

The case of J. O. Williams against McGhie & Moore for $25 claimed due for hay was tried this morning to a jury before Squire Rose, and judgment given for the full amount and the costs in the case.

Burned Out.

The western circuit of the street lighting system was out of order last night because an armature had burned out. It is thought the lights will be on tonight.

Death.

Fear death, but be not afraid of death. To fear it whets thy expectation. If thou canst endure it, it is but a slight pain; if not, it is but a short pain. To fear death is the way to live long; to be afraid of death is to be long a-dying.—Schwabische Tagwacht.

Exchange.

ANIMAL MOTHERS.

The Queer Ways In Which They Take Care of Their Young.

All dumb animal and insect mothers have certain ways of taking care of their babies, as well as our mothers do of us, and some of their ways are very queer.

At my grandmother's there was an old cat that had five kittens, which she kept in the hay in the barn. One day one of the kittens went out on a large beam that extended from one end of the barn to the other, and when he reached the middle of it began to be afraid and sat down on the beam, mewing pitifully. He was so far away from me that I could not reach him, and I did not know how to get him down. Just then the mother cat came up and purred and mewed to him, telling him to wait until she came. She then went out to where he was, and, as the beam was a broad one, she went before him, picked him up in her mouth and carried him back into the hay out of danger.

One day I was up in the attic, and I found on the ceiling a paper wasp's nest. I took it off and found that it was empty. There were also several mud wasp's nests, and upon opening some of them I found the grubs in one part of the nest and the food, which was nothing but little worms and insects packed together, in another part. I brought the paper wasp's nest to my city home, but not the mud nests.

The turtles do not take much care of their babies. They scoop a place in the sand and lay their eggs and then cover them up. The heat of the sun hatches them, and the young turtles have to take care of themselves.

Frogs lay their eggs in some warm place in the water and fasten them to reeds, cattails or some such plant, and the warmth of the sun hatches them. The eggs are in a cluster, and each one, which looks like white jelly, is about the size of a small pea and has a little round black spot in the center. I found some and put them in a large glass jar with water in it and set it in a warm place. After several days each of the little spots had a tail, and the jelly-like substance that had been around the black spots to keep them from injury began to disappear. I found that they had hatched and were pollywogs. They grew very fast, but never lived to change into frogs, as they died before they were half grown.

The potato bug lays its eggs on the underside of a potato leaf, and when the young are hatched they have the leaves to eat, and the mother does not have to take care of them. The eggs are small and of a bright yellow color. I have seen a great many of them on one leaf.

Near my grandfather's there is a creek, with willows growing on the edge of it. One day I saw two kingfishers on a limb of one of the trees and the mother bird sitting by the side of them. She was looking steadily into the water. Suddenly she darted down into the water and in a minute came up with a fish. She took it to the little birds, and after this she dived several times, as though showing them how to catch fish.

The crabs have their homes under

16 TO 1

that both gold and silver men will buy their Clothing, Hats, Caps, Furnishings, Trunks and Valises at our store this season.

WE'RE BOUND TO WIN.

It's a sure thing. Can't help it. Just look at the style, look at the quality, and then look at the prices. The odds are all in our favor. We've got the

CLOTHING, HATS, CAPS and GENTS' FURNISH- ING GOODS

that the people want. We've got 'em right; right in style, right in quality and right in price.

You'll come very near holding in your hand one-half the money that you expected to spend if you buy your Clothing Hats and Furnishings from

GEO. C. MURPHY,

Bargain One Price
Clothier, Hatter, Furnisher.

Have you seen our Imperial Hat? It's a beauty.

There is No Place
Like Home. How True.
Neither is there any
Place like Bulger's
Drug Store for you to Patronize.

There you get the best of everything—from a thorough knowledge of the business, with 19 years experience. A college course, State examination, etc., to a personal supervision of all business. We can give you better and safer prescription service than you can find in town, and we can guarantee you satisfactory prices. Try it.

ON BULGER'S

BABY
FIXINGS.

Baby does need a lot of things to make its little life comfortable doesn't it?

Pure Powder,
Pure Soap,
Soft Sponges.
Soft Brushes,
Delicate Perfume;

Maybe.....

Nipples and
Bottles, and
Prepared Food,

If it's that kind of a baby. Whatever it's needs, you can get it from

CLARENCE G. ANDERSON,
DRUGGIST,
N. E. Cor. 6th and W. Market.

NOTICE TO GAS CONSUMERS.

All domestic consumers connected with the Ohio Valley Gas company's lines are hereby notified that after Oct. 1, 1896, gas will be supplied only through meters. Meters will be furnished at the consumers' expense upon application at the office of this company. The price per thousand cubic feet by meter will be twenty-five cents, subject to a discount of twenty per cent, provided bills are paid on or before the 10th of each month for preceding month's supply.

THE OHIO VALLEY GAS CO.

SLEPT WITH A CORPSE

Mr. and Mrs. Whiting Found Their Baby Dead.

PASSED AWAY DURING THE NIGHT

The Father Thought It Was Sleeping at Four O'clock Yesterday Morning—An Autopsy Held This Afternoon—Inquest Tomorrow.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Whiting was found dead in bed yesterday morning at the home of its parents on Second street.

The child was but four months old, and has for several days been suffering from an affliction of the throat. He was not very ill, and the parents did not think his condition serious. It was thought best on Saturday night to have him sleep with them, and when Whiting awoke about 4 o'clock the child seemed to be slumbering peacefully.

Later when the couple arose they were surprised the little one did not awaken, and an examination speedily showed them it was dead. Squire Manley decided to hold an inquest, and Doctor Clark and Doctor Hobbs held an autopsy this afternoon. The father expressed the belief that his son had been suffering from a dangerous form of croup, and had been seized with an attack early in the morning, and had died without an effort. The physicians did not file their report until late this afternoon, and would give out nothing for publication until after their decision was in the hands of the squire. Squire Manley said no inquest would be held if the report was satisfactory.

LATER—The report was filed soon after 4 o'clock, but Squire Manley said he would make nothing public until tomorrow.

PERSONAL MENTION.

—Miss Florence Cartwright is visiting friends in Pittsburgh.

—Jacob Stein left this morning on a business trip to Baltimore.

—Councilman Ashbaugh went east this morning for the West End pottery.

—David McClellan, of New Castle, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Sloane, Fifth street.

—Miss Belle Azdell leaves tomorrow for Denver, where her mother is at present.

—Charles Armstrong, of Braddock, was visiting friends in the city over Sunday.

—W. H. Deidrick and family arrived home Saturday evening after a visit in the east.

—James Moore, of Akron, was in the city today attending the funeral of his sister, Mrs. L. C. Simms.

—F. T. Searight, of the Allegheny Evening Record, was yesterday the guest of his parents in East End.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Henderson, of Beaver Falls, Pa., are the guests of J. W. Albright, McKinnon's addition.

—Miss Laura Welch, of Steubenville, spent Sunday with her sister, Miss Welch, who is acting temporarily as librarian.

—Mrs. Lucy McKinnon and John McKinnon arrived home last evening, after a visit of four months with relatives in Long Bottom.

PITTSBURG EXCURSIONS.

Reduced Rates via Pennsylvania Lines For the Exposition.

Baby does need a lot of things to make its little life comfortable doesn't it?

Pure Powder,
Pure Soap,
Soft Sponges.
Soft Brushes,
Delicate Perfume;

Maybe.....

Nipples and
Bottles, and
Prepared Food,

If it's that kind of a baby. Whatever it's needs, you can get it from

CLARENCE G. ANDERSON,
DRUGGIST,
N. E. Cor. 6th and W. Market.

Parties contemplating the purchase of lots in Chester will please take notice that said lots will be taken off the market from and after Saturday, Oct. 3, 1896, until next year, when they will command much higher figures. Now is the time to invest. Avail yourself of this, your last opportunity, to purchase at these prices.

J. E. McDONALD,
First National Bank Building,
City.

FILLING VACANCIES.

School Board Will Have a Lot of Work to Do.

The vacancies in the representation of the Third ward in the board of education will be filled this evening at the regular meeting of the board. The resignations of Mr. Nickle and Mrs. Whitehead are in the hands of Clerk Norris, and will be accepted. The parties appointed will serve until November when an election will be conducted.

Got the Full Amount.

The case of J. O. Williams against McGhie & Moore for $25 claimed due for hay was tried this morning to a jury before Squire Rose, and judgment given for the full amount and the costs in the next year.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER Absolutely Pure.

A cream of tartar baking powder. Highest of all in leavening strength.—Latest United States Government Food Report.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

CAKE AN OLD INSTITUTION.

The Ancients Made and Ate It, but It Was a Simple Affair.

The ancients made cake, but it was not the rich, highly seasoned and flavored confection which we indulge in nowadays. They had plain cakes made with flour and water, some of them without a suspicion of sweet or flavor. Some of them were not unlike our plainest crackers and were often eaten as we eat bread.

Wedding cake was an institution among them, as with us, but the cake was a plain one and was broken above the head of the bride as she went to her new home. This was a special feature of Roman marriages 2,000 years ago.

The breaking of the cake was part of a solemn ceremony. All of the cakes of ancient history are plain and simple.

It is only as we come down to more modern times that we hear of spiced and fruits and all of the rich and luxurious ingredients in which present day cakemakers delight. In Queen Elizabeth's time spice cakes and buns were eaten at weddings. From these the fashion and fancy grew for all sorts of elaborate and deliciously unwholesome combinations until there seems to be a perpetual struggle for something new and more unusual to stir into the cake of the period.

The headstones and monuments in this singular cemetery are as large and often as costly as any placed above the average human body, and the epitaphs on them are not infrequently quite as eulogistic.

"This one here," observed the attendant, pointing out a particularly neat and well kept grave with a red marble obelisk at the head of it, "is where two pug dawgs were buried. They belonged to an old lady who brought 'em over with her from Paris. She had 'em for several years, and we were always being called in to doctor 'em, though they were always suffering from nothing but overfeeding. At last one day they were both taken ill together—they'd eaten something as wasn't good for 'em—and they died. She was dreadful cut up about it—she couldn't have been more so if they'd been children—and she had 'em buried here in two as neat little airtight coffins as ever you see. She comes every now and then on a visit, and she pays our gardener 25 shillings a year extra specially to water the flowers she planted on the grave and keep it all tidy."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Oh, yes; I think I may say every dawg is buried in a box of some sort and a fair proportion of 'em in proper coffins, brass mounted and everything. You'd hardly believe how some of the owners will cry at the funeral.

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Oh, yes; I think I may say every dawg is buried in a box of some sort and a fair proportion of 'em in proper coffins, brass mounted and everything. You'd hardly believe how some of the owners will cry at the funeral.

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It's deep and lined with bricks, and you go down into it by a flight of steps. There's six dawgs down on the shelves already in lead lined coffins. If you look through the grating in the door, you'll see the names and ages on the stone that covers the opening. His lordship's uncommon fond of his dawgs, and whenever a fresh one dies it's brought up here and the vault's opened for it. We've never had another vault like this, which we'll come to presently, only it belongs to a lady."

"Now, here we have what you may call a family vault, which belongs to a nobleman, as you see for yourself on the tablet over the doorway. It